

Stellar Distribution Facility Services

Stellar Distribution Facility Services provides design, engineering and construction services for public refrigerated warehouses and retail, wholesale and food service distribution facilities. To meet the varied needs of its clients, Stellar offers a flexible approach, whether it's design-build, an engineering study or a construction management assignment. In addition to new facility construction, Stellar also provides services for expansions and renovations.

Stellar has the ability to self-perform work such as industrial refrigeration systems and equipment, thermal wall and roofing systems, controls and instrumentation, racking, material handling systems, conveyors, packaging and blast chillers.
